Initiative Description and Scope

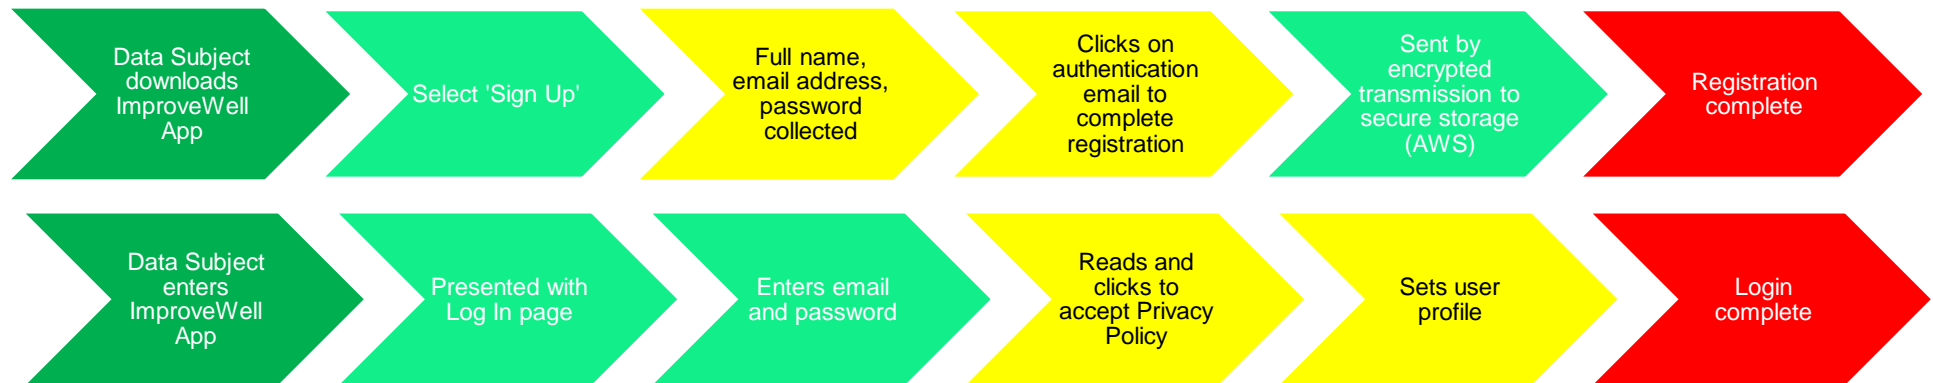

The ImproveWell platform has a smartphone app and data dashboard with three core feedback systems.

The App User is an employee who enters minimal Personal Data (largely by virtue of an email address and job title) into the App and submits (i) theme-based ideas for improvement; (ii) whether they have had a good day, sometimes with reasons why; and (iii) answers to surveys.

These data are then used to manage quality improvement by the customer and for aggregated purposes by ImproveWell.

Appendix C Brexit Impact Assessment

Context

This assessment is an addendum to the core Data Protection Impact Assessment for ImproveWell. It serves to identify whether the impending exit of Britain from the European Union (Brexit) will have an impact on the rights and freedoms of data subjects using the ImproveWell platform and whether any alterations should be made to the technical and organisational measures in place to mitigate resulting risks.

GDPR Article 44 provides that any transfer of personal data which are undergoing processing or are intended for processing after transfer to a 'third country' are restricted and require satisfaction of particular Articles or derogations within the regulation in order to be lawful.

A third country is a country other than the EU member states and the three additional EEA countries (Norway, Iceland, and Liechtenstein) that have adopted a national law implementing the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Whilst Britain has implemented GDPR through the 2018 Data Protection Act, there has been no confirmation from Europe or 'adequacy decision' to formally recognise Britain's compliance with GDPR – such that satisfaction of the additional articles and derogations would not be required.

Consequently, upon exiting the European Union and pending an adequacy decision, Britain will become a 'third country' and any processing of personal data subject to GDPR must satisfy the necessary elements of Articles 45, 46, 47 or 49 to be lawful.
